FUN FACTS!

Currency is made up of 25% linen and 75% cotton. It's not paper at all! It also contains red and blue fibers distributed randomly throughout. This makes it very durable and hard to copy!

How much ink do you need to make a dollar bill? 37 million bills are printed each day using about 18 tons of ink per day! Each dollar uses approximately 0.016 ounces of ink per print!

Pennies are pretty expensive! A single penny in U.S. currency is worth one cent, but it costs the government 2.4 cents to make 1 penny!
